This is no longer a war for State rights or any other rights, except the right of a set of usurpers at Richmond to hold office and divide spoils. They have even dropped the desire to be let alone, and im- the Government? In this way have the pudently proclaim their object to conquer a boundary. State lines and State rights are no longer any obstacle to the purposes of these traitors to mankind. They look over the country and decide what they want, and propose to take it. The sovereignty of a State upon which they built up their Confederacy is in the way, and is now spurned

The reader is mistaken if he supposes that there has been any real change in the designs of the leaders. A strong central Government, with no State lines to interfere with their power, was the purpose at the beginning, and all the professions to the contrary were lies. The real purpose of the conspirators was obvious, but it was idle to charge it, as the people of this State were incredulous. We charged the design to dissolve the Union upon these leaders, and all recollect how lustily they denied it in this State. Thousands believed them and discredited the charge. The design was thought too monstrous to be entertained by anybody. We now see the result. These men were as bad as we said they were. Their designs were fully as atrocious. We did not do full justice to their guilty pur- prisoners, retaliation is the only policy to

We now charge, and time will show it, that these leaders do not intend to establish republican institutions in the South at all. They intend to have a consolidated Government, with a central power able to control all local action.

The way they have treated popular suf frage is sufficient to prove this. The Cotton States hardly disguised their contempt for popular suffrage. Georgia called a Convention. About fifty thousand men voted out of one hundred and twenty thousand; the rest innocently supposing that they would have a vote on whatever was done. These ordinances were not submitted to the people. The excuses for not doing it show the animus of the whole thing. They hadn't time. A discussion would rise, and arties would be formed and in short the questions were too grave for the comprehension of the masses. The same excuse was made for secret sessions. They kept prompt action. The secret den at Richmond formally submitted the matter to the people: but filled the State with arms, and made a league with the Southern Confederacy before the vote was taken; thus treating popular suffrage with contempt. Tennessee followed the mean example. These usurp. ers manufactured a Confederate Governthese rulers have exercised despotic power over the lives, liberties and fortunes of their submissive subjects.

They adopt the usual means of usurpers; keep up excitement by lies and clap-trap; appeal to prejudice, passion and vulgarity. The people are not to have time to think. The States now have no right to decide as to their own destiny. These Confederates propose to swear all who have differed with them, and to banish all who dissent. This shows what is to be done with State troubles, whilst we settle our own; and rights. It is the right to serve and obey Jeff. Davis & Co.

These conspirators against the liberties of the people made a Constitution. The people, without sifting the production, shouted hosannas to it and their masters who made it; but these masters, for fear the people might have time to consider, ratified their usurpation themselves, and deemel that sufficient, as it certainly was safest for the conspirators. Kentucky, Missouri and Maryland didn't give the conspirators an opportunity to get started; and now the disguise is thrown off. Kentucky blockade. The Constitution they have made they will not regard any further than it answers the purpose; but it is essentially different from our old Constitution. His Secretaries have thirteen thousand troops, and in a month a seat in Congress, with the right to debate. expects to have fifteen thousand.

They can explain, defend and persuade, and having the patrenage of the Government, can buy the votes they need. They copy this part of their Constitution from England. It is in that country a strong support to the crown. In England, however, the minister must be elected by some con stituency in the kingdom. In the Southern Confederacy he is appointed only by the President. Their Congress can't, without two thirds, appropriate a dollar, unless it is recommended by the President. He can, moreover, veto any clause of a bill, and ap prove the rest. With all these provisions, the President can control the legislative power. He and his Cabinet are, indeed, the Government. Our fathers intended these wo powers to be separate and independent In addition to all this, the officers of the army are allowed to be members of Con-

We have not room to quote the numerous hints of the Southern press showing the contempt for popular government, and the outgivings that the experiment is a failure. They are, however, numerous, and there never was a people better prepared than those of the Southern States to submit to any usurpation without examination, and without suspicion. They are on the high road that every people have traveled to despotism. The masses don't believe it; they never do till they are enslaved. The secret den at Richmond may forge the chains before their eyes, and they will shout, "Hurra for Jeff. Davis."

The confiscation of the property of Union men in the Confederate States is a measure ventured on, by the thieves of the Southern Confederacy, with a calculation upon the forbearance of Union men. They had better not calculate too largely upon that forbearance. If they resolved to shoot stop it. Confiscation of property is the same sort of outrage, and it is in order to stop it in the same way. There is a good deal of property in this State owned by men who have cast their fortunes with the Southern Confederacy, and if our Union men are robbed by this secret den at Richmond, they can be paid back out of property in this State, whose owners are now making war upon the State and the United States. Harsh as the measure is, justice requires it, and Kentucky will not suffer this robbery of her people without retaliation. Better stop this confiscation. The Confederates will only have the more to pay in the end, and their friends who have taken up arms or run away from this State may make up their minds that if Union men are robbed by the rebels, these fugitives and enemies of the State will have to refund. Nothing less will be justice to our people, who are loyal to the Government and to Kentucky.

What are the countless multitude of troops coming here for? Are they all to engage that Benedict Arnold, Buckner? We heard that inquiry yesterday. We guess heard that inquiry yesterday. We guess is felt by the native population. They that a visit to Buckner will be made on the dread the "Texans." There are now way; but this invading army, a countless host, we expect to sweep on down toward the Gulf of Mexico, and meet one equally large coming up. These will clear out the Mississippi and its vicinity of rebels, as the ment, chose the rulers of the people, and snag-boats cleaned it of snags, only faster and more effectually. What glorious times reinforced-that, however, is all bosh. coming, when the father of waters is again the highway of free trade and unobstructed commerce. The good old times are coming Push on the columns!

"Must conquer a boundary!" So the crazy people of Dixie say. Well, that is just what the Union forces are going to do; and we will have no boundary but the ocean east or west of us. We shall take care of Mexico, and help her out of her England had better take care how she behaves, or we shall add Canada.

The Union forces are only just gathering They have been forbearing, waiting for this malignant epidemic to subside in the South without blood-letting. They have been slow, not because the forces were not plenty: they are able to make all Dixie bristle with bayonets.

Letter from Cumberland County. BURKSVILLE, Oct. 20, 1861.

Editors-Gentlemen: Great excitement exists at this point; you know Cumberland county is on the border, one corner of the county running down to the Tennessee line, between Clinton and Monroe counties. Troops from Tennessee crossed the line, and took possession of Tompkinsville; they staid there but a short time; seized all the mills; ground up, and took away, all the grain they could find, as well as some eight hundred gallons of liquor.

They then moved off about nine miles, to John Frairn's, where about five or six hundred Union men had been encamped; took possession of the camp, and were still there Culloch by stating, positively, that less than a week since he was at Fort Scott. He is yesterday morning. The Union mea, who had been there drilling, had gone to Lebanon or Columbia after arms. It is thought to be the intention of these Tennessee thousand men each from Louisiana and troops, whose numbers and officers I could not learn, are on their way to Bowlinggreen, and that they will go via Scottsville. unite with Price. There is a growing belief hope they will be intercepted if possible and

Letter from Larue County.

LARUE COUNTY, Oct. 21, 1861. Editors Democrat-Gentlemen: On my return from Frankfort, I took the stump, and am canvassing this county with great success. Larue has sent 350 good stout Union men to the army, and many more propose to join. We are expecting Colonel Pope here with his regiment, to be stationed either here or on Muldrough's Hill. The summit of Muldrough's Hill, where the Nashville turnpike road leads over, is a great passing point for such secesh as are desirous of joining Buckner, and should be well guarded.

In our opinion, Colonel Pope is just the man to occupy that point, and our boys of Larue will flock to him instead of going to Tuileries Cabinet to go on with her arma Lebanon and other places.

Let Larue and the adjoining counties rally their men, and Col. Pope's Regiment can be filled up in a very few days with hardy, determined men.

Larue county votes 1,100 for the Union, and we will send at least 500 volunteers for the cause of the Government. I am away from home, working day and night for the good cause, and am meeting with great

SYMPTOMS OF REBELLION IN CANADA. The recent information vouchsafed to the Canadians by the Army and Navy Gazette, that the troops now being sent to the provinces are for the especial purpose of keeping down any symptoms of rebellion that may break out, has changed the tone of those Canadian journals that were exulting over the arrival of the imported rel coats as looking toward contingencies in the United States. The Hamilton Times gives us a column in its issue of Thursday, under the of the Territory as a Home Guard. Great head of "Despotism in Canada," from which

We are plainly informed that there are se French portion of Canada, and to such a hight is party warfare carried, that Her Majesty's government have thought it advisable to strengthen the hands of the Provis ional government with a few well-tried regiments which can be depended upor. The London Times hinted at something of the same sort a few months ago, but truly observed that the corruntion of the Minisry, and complicity of the Governor General, and created no little dissatisfaction in Upper Canada.

We are aware that the people of Canada have much to endure from official mal administration on the one hand, and sectional persecution on the other; and we are also ware that it may be possible by blind persistence in robbery and favoritism to drive the country to the verge of civil war; but it is something new to us that regiments of well-tried soldiers are considered necessary to keep the Governor-General in his robes of vice royalty.

the 4th of October, gives some items in reference to the English, French, and Spanish complications with Mexico, which our readers will find of no little interest:

We are in the midst of a political agitation so great, so absorbing, as to cause a momentary forgetfulness of the American rebellion. The new treaty of commerce with England is now in full force, and Paris, and, for that matter, all France, is inunda-ted with English merchandise. The large manufacturers who, up to the present time have been protected by either downright prohibition or tariffs that were almost the same in their results, have been forced in many instances to give up a contest with the etter machinery and cheaper labor of England, and have stopped their factories. in most cases throwing hundreds, in some cases thousands, of workmen out of employment. To add to the complications that are arising on all sides of France, is a growing desire evinced by England to no longer act in concert with France upon any subject or in any case. Nothing but this disinclination part of Lord Palmerston to act with Napoleon III. has prevented the recognition of the Davis government.

As a tit for tat, France has refused to act in concert with England in Mexico. The London Post-Lord Palmerston's organannounced that France was to send a force to Mexico in conjunction with England and Spain, and that the rights of their different ibjects were thus to France caused her official organ to contradict this statement of the Post, because England would not act with France, and at once, in favor of the rebellious American States-the St. James Cabinet continuing adverse to any such course towards you

A Paris correspondent, writing on Grand Split in the Southern Confederacy.

[Correspondence of the Philadelphia Press]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15, 1861. The quarrel between Wise and Floyd is not the only smoke that conceals the boiling and tempestuous volcano now working in the heart of the Southern Confederacy. You will soon see many more signs of disagreements and divisions. There are already two great parties in the seceded States-one composed of violent and proscriptive men like Davis of Mississippi, Mason, Wise, and Peyor of Virginia, Cobb of Georgia, Stidell of Louisians, Reagan and McCulloch of Texas, and Zollicoffer of Tennessee-and the other of politicians like Governor Brown of Georgia, Sommers of Virginia, Magoffia and Powell of Kentucky, George W. Jones of Tennessee, Sebastian of Arkansas, Soule and Bouligny of Louisiana, who are supposed to be in favor of a peaceable adjustment, and are free in the expression of their opinion that the war ought never to have aken place. Only a few weeks ago the Richmond Examiner denounced Vice President Alexander H. Stevens as "the petted idol and hope of every corrupt spoiler and obber in the South.'

Davis does not conceal his contempt for the camp followers who were forced to run from the free States to Richmond, and are now there, either starving or poor, or utterly dependent upon such contracts as they may be able to extort from him. Although there is really no money in the treasury traitors—their whole currency being depreciated paper—these wretched emissaries, having no other resort, beg and plead for employment of some kind. Of course the expenses of the concern are enormous. complain of ours; but it is a proud consolation to feel that our people are compara-tively rich and comfortable, and that we can spare much out of our substance to our representatives and servants at Washington. If the Northern men who are anxious to terrify the masses of the loyal States, by exaggerating the amount of taxation necessary to sustain the Government in the war, would deal justly, they would point out the difference between our wide-spread comfort, and happiness, and wealth, and the dissensions, taiters and rags, and want of food and money, of the Secessionists.

The poetry of the revolution is passing The rich planters so willing to contribute to the rebel leaders are beginning to appreciate the folly of the whole experiment; and the politicians who shouted so loudly after Manassas look gloomily upon the coming winter, and wait in fear of inteligence from the Gulf and the mouth of the Mississippi. It is said that Gov. Aiken, of South Carolina, whose fortune has been set down at a fabulous figure, denounces the heads of the army and the managers of the Provisional Government with much severity. and such men as Governor Manning, of South Carolina. Duncan, of Alabama, the rich creoles of New Orleans, and the rice, cotton, and sugar kings groan with bitter agony under the burdens heaped upon them.

I saw a Southern man yesterday, who predicts if McClellan defeats Beauregard, he whole traitors' conspiracy will fall like a card castle, and that thousands now held, as it were, in chains, and forced to sing hosannas to men and to measures they despise, will break into loud and irresistible complaints. Nothing is more confirmatory of ese general views than the tone of such of the Secession papers as I have been enabled to glance over. Although filled with brutal articles against "the Lincoln army" and "the Yankee"," it is a common thing to see in the columns of the Charleston Mercury, the New Orleans Picayune, and the Montgle that must be one for life or death. All gomery Advertiser, the most malignat sneers at the want of tact, system, and integrity in the self-constituted Administration of the Confederacy. The break up in the postal system is falt almost as keenly as the want of money and of the necessaries of lifeincluding clothing, sugar. coffee, &c.

All the sound banks in the South are error stricken, not knowing the hour when the bandits will plunder them as they plundered the Federal Treasury; and it is shrewdly surmised that these institutions would much rather see Twiggs scourged out of New Orleans, and the Federal army enter it with colors flying, than to suffer as they do. They feel that their money is much safer in the vaults of the Federal Treasury than in the hands of reckless robbers like McCulloch and Floyd, and they are not without hope that if they can hold on to their specie until it is taken from them by the Federal troops, it may, in some moment of magnanimity, be restored to them, when the hour of peace and submishas arrived. It must be a heartbreaking task for Jefferson Davis to preside over such a Government. Whatever may be said of him, he has heretofore borns an honest reputation. While a member of the Cabinet, he was known for his contempt of jobbers, and his horror of extravagance. Living, as he does, in the very center of the sepulcher, and seeing equally its weakness and its corcuption, I do not wonder that his ealth gives way, nor that he is the victim of constant self reproaches.

A very bitter feeling exists against what is called the timidity of England and France in regard to the recognition of the Confederacy. Here is another element of the rebel weakness. This speedy recognition was the fondest dream of Davis and Toombs, and was held out as a glad promise their followers. That miserable toady, Dudley Mann, assured them that it could be accomplished, and yet he has been easily vegetating in London and Paris for menths, and now only writes to show how studiously he is being snubbed by the Ministers of Napoleon and Victoria. Even J B Dedow, the dislocated editor of the Review that ore his name, who was supplying timber for the secession conflagration, while taking the pay of the Federal Government, begins to despair of the whole concern.

We understand that Judge Johnston, of the City Court, yesterday morning, in examining Henry Bailey, stated that the newspapers were interfering in a way they of justice; and as the Democrat and Evening will be named to morrow. News were the only papers that published anything like an extended notice of the outrage committed by Bailey, of course his remarks were intended for us. But Judge J. must not take it for granted that because witnesses are not brought before his court therefore there is no evidence. We had the best evidence for what we stated, and if the same evidence had been cited before the Judge, we opine he would not have discharged Bailey. Judge J. should know by this time that the papers are much more apt to get the whole truth than he is. WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 .- A special to the Post says: The sudden stoppage of navigation on the Potomac has produced a commo-tion among the shipping at Mathias Point, and their fate is yet uncertain. It is believed that the Government will speedily take effective measures for clearing away the obstacles, to permit the free passage of

It is believed that but for the presence of the Southern army, Eastern Virginia would now be ready to return to lovalty. Many evidences of discontent and murmuring, not only in the to return to loyal'y. Many evidences of welcome are displayed by the inhabitants of Loudon county towards the newly arrived treops of General Banks. It is well unders coû here that the reports of the intended interference with our blockade by European Powers are, for the most part, the inventions

CUMBERLAND, Louisville, Ky., Oct. 9, 1861. The following plan for lorganizing troops in Kentucky for service for "three years or during the war," has been agreed on between the State Military Board and the

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF THE?

Commanding General: The Military Board will appoint, at the various places where volunteers are offer-ing, mustering officers, who will muster in and receive volunteers as they are presented.

The Board will also supply to its agents. funds for paying the expenses incurred, and for the supply of such articles of clothing and camp equipage as are necessary before uniforms are issued. As soon as ten companies of a regiment are complete, they will be mustered into the service of the United States, and supplied with arms, accourrements, uniforms, and transportation to the place of service by the regular Quartermaster of the United States. Also at points convenient to the Subsistence Departments, provisions will be issued.

WE ARE PAYING NINETY CENTS FOR PRIME WHITE WHEAT, and will continue to pay the to the companies during the process of forare also paying the highest market price for good RED WHEAT. Where persons have been authorized to raise regiments and may succeed in doing so, they will be commissioned as Colonels; but if this occasions delays, the Captains of companies may form themselves into regiments of ten companies, assemble at a rendezvous, and submit their choice Colonel, Lieutenant Colonel, and Major for commissions.

If they do not voluntarily form such organization, the commanding General will order them as independent companies to join together at convenient points, and there form them into regiments and battalions, appointing the necessary field officers, Ratified by the Military Board in session at Frankfort, October 12, 1861, and signed

From Yesterday's "Evening News."

Washington, Oct. 22 .- The Washington correspondent's description of the fight at Edwards' Ferry says both wings were attacked as early as nine o'clock A. M., but the Wash and be clean," said the He enemy was repulsed wherever he appeared brew girl to Naiman, the Syrian. He was at about five r. m. the right wing found itself confronted by near 4,000 of the enemy, under General Evans, with artillery That was 3,000 years ago; it is the same Colonel Baker gallantly essayed the charge, new with the hard-to-be-convinced invalid; in which he was killed. The officer left in command immediately ordered the men to fall back near the river bank, where they could be supported by General Stone and down with prostrated powers of mind and the portions of the army that had at that body, perchance even wishing yourself "free time effected a crossing. The men obeyed, in good order, carrying off all the dead and wounded wounded.

On reaching the point selected, the right crossed the river and threw up temporary works, that render his position secure, and enabled him to protect the crossing of the division of General Banks, to be essayed this morning.

The object of General Stone's movement was to enable his command, with General Banks' division, to be safely transferred to Virginia.

Evans attacked Colonel Baker in front and both flanks. Colonel Coggeswell was probably taken prisoner Our information so far this morning is, just the thing required in malaria or fever that General Banks' army arrived at the Ferry at 175. The main portion of Sickle's Maryland landing of Edward's Ferry last Brigade is now opposite the rebel batteries, night, and have been crossing the river securely since daylight.

Washington, Oct. 22 .- Special to Tribune. The report made by Adjutant Gen. Thomas of his recent examination into the administration of the Department of the West, by Major General Fremont, was this morning considered, in full cabinet meeting. With the reluctance which he states to injure a distinguished man, and wound and disappoint the friends which a popular leader gathers in his career, all the members of the Cabinet slowly pronounced their judgment-that the interests of Missouri and of the Union, required that General Fremont should be superceded in his command by Major General Hunter. The order to this effect will be issued to morrow. The President was greatly affected by the death of Col. Baker.

Herald's Dispatch -The latest news tonight is that the whole of Stone's column has crossed the Potomac, and is in full pursuit of the enemy, and that General Banks' column had reached the banks of the river. and would speedily follow and support Information received late last night from General Stone's command announces that the fight was a desparate one, and that large numbers of men were killed on both sides. Although the enemy was much stronger than General Stone, he was falling back before the advance of our troops and would have undoubtedly been totally routed but for the fall of Colonel Baker, which produced a sudden confusion among our troops. Gen. Gustavus W. Smith commanded the rebels, and a private dispatch asserts he was that from his horse and carried off the fie'd General Banks with his command is now supporting General Stone, and, being a Mejor-General, is in full command. General McClellan left for General Banks' head-quarters in the field this morning.

It is a subject of regret that General Baker should have engaged the enemy, when, according to report, he was ordered to make a reconnoisance only, with strict instructions, if attacked, to fail back and not fight.

Colonel Baker made his will on Saturday last, and deposited it with Colonel Webb, and when he left for the field, he said to the latter-I shall participate in battle in forty-

An effort is making to supercede General McClellan with General Hollick, who is on his way here from California. This change would create a new revolution in military and civil circles, where the greatest confidence is entertained fer General McClellan.

Colonel Geary reports that the four men who were killed at the battle of Bolivar Hights, were afterwards charged upon by the cavalry and stabbed through the body, stripped of all their clothing, not excepting shoes and stockings, and left in perfect nudity. One was laid out in the form of crucifixion, with his hands spread, and cut through the palms with a dull knife.

A dispatch to the Times says: At the Cabinet meeting to-day it was decided not to interfere for the present with General Fremont and his command. Judge Davis, of Illinois, was commanded to take testi mony in reference to contracts made in the Western Department, and all bills that he passes will be paid instantly.

Information received this morning from Fairfax Court-house states that only the rebel pickets are present at that place. A small force, however, is stationed at Germantows, a mile and a half distant.

ROLLA, Mo., Oct. 23 -Lieut. Kirby, with fifteen men of Major Wright's battalion, had another fight with 45 rebels, near Linn creek, on the 17th, killing five of them, and wounding about a dozen. The result of Major Wright's march from Rolla to Linn creek can be summed as follows: Three successful fights, in which 68 rebels were killed and about the same number wounded; 87 prisoners taken, 123 guns, 15 horses, several yokes of oxen, wagons, and many other articles.

Price's army was at Greenfield last Wednesday, still headed southward. Reports from Springfield say that General McBride, of the rebel forces, has resigned, and is on his way to that place to disband his division and return home.

Col. Taylor, in command of the rebel forces at Sprizgfield, recently issued a proclamation declaring that all Union men who had belonged to the Home Guards weuld be required to leave the country, or go into the Southern army for the length of time they had served in the Federal army, and requiring a pledge from the Union men now there for the exemplary conduct of their friends who are absent rom home. The proclamation also prohib its the carrying of any more slaves South as such a course is calculated to lessen the confidence of the ability of the Southern army to sustain itself itself in Missouri.

ST. Louis, Mo, Oct. 14, 1861.

General: The Secretary of War directs me to communicate the following as his instructions for your government:

In view of the heavy sums due, especially in the Quartermaster's Department in this city, amounting to some $4.500,000, it is important that the money which may now be in the hands of the disbursing officers, or to be received by them, be applied to the current expenses of your army in Missouri, and these debts remain unpaid until they can be properly examined and sent to Washington for settlement; the disbursing officers of the army to disburse the funds, and not transfer them to irresponsible agents—in other words those who do not hold commissions from the President, and are not under bonds. All contracts neces-sary to be made by the disbursing officers The senior Quartermaster here has been verbally instructed by the Secretary as above.

It is deemed unnecessary to erect field works around this city, and you will direct their discontinuance; also those, if any, in course of construction at Jefferson City. In this connection, it is seen that a number of commissions have been given by you. No payments will be made to such officers, except to those whose appointments have been approved by the President. This, of course, does not apply to the officers with volunteer troops. Col. Andrews has been verbally so instructed by the Secretary; also, not to make transfers of funds, except for the purpose of paying the troops.

The erection of barracks near your quarters in this city is to be at once discontin-The Secretary has been informed that the troops of Gen. Lane's command are committing depredations on our friends in Western Missouri. Your attention is directed to this, in the expectation that you will apply the corrective.

Major Allen desires the services of Capt. Turnley for a short time, and the Secretary hopes you may find it proper to accede thereto LIMERAUGH: Madame—I have used your Compound Syrup in my own case of deep-seated bronchial hearsoness, with which I have be enafficted or upwards of twenty years, and am satisfied, after having taken three bottles, that it is an admirable compount for the relief of laryugeal and bronchial difficulties; for the three bottles I nave used have relieved me more than anything I have taken, and I think it will cure meeffectually if I continue to use it. If my opinion as to it's superior character can be of any service, you are at liberty to use it as you think proper Kev. ELIJAH GUTTON.

Mrs. L. Limeabaugh: I have used your Compound Syrup in my own case of deec-seated cough, and found it relieved me very much, and can recommend it to any one that is troubled with a cough.

Dr. MERWIN'S FEVER & AGUE PILLS. FOR THE PERMANENT CURE OF FEVER AND AGUE CHILLS. FEVER CONGESTIVE CHILLS, REMITTENT FEVER, BILIOUS FEVER, DUMB AGUE, AND ALL PERIODICAL DISEASES THAT HAVE THEIR ORIGIN IN THE MIAS MATIC EFFLUVIA ARISING FROM DECAYED VEGETATION. PHESE "PILLS" NEVER FAIL TO CURE ALL OF the above-named Fevers, and what is better, they use ACT AS A PREVENTIVE, if taken occasionally, ordaily, while exposed to the infection. Hence the old dage, "Anounce of preventice is worth a pownd of cure." Dr. Merwin's "Fever and Ague Pills" differ from all there Chill Mediclass, in the following particulars: let. They never fail to perform a speedy and permanent cure.

3d. They are agreeable and convenient to take.
4th. They contain no poisonous minerals, being purely egetable.
a. They do not impair the organic functions of the stomach or any part or the system.
6th. They require no other medicine to prepare the system for their reception, o afterwards to allay irritation.

cut. Hely require no cater medicine to prepare the system for their reception, o alterwards to allay irritation.

Th. They are not a Northeru "catch-i enny humbug," but are prepared by gentlemen that were born, reared and educated under the benign influences of Southern sististions.

**B. Remember, when you purchase these Pills, that ou are not contributing means for "Yankee Emigrant id Societies," or Sharpe's rifles and Bowle-Knives for "Heeding Kansas," as you many times have done in buying Northern articles.

We wish all fo distinctly understand that this is a SOUTHERN MEDICINE, prepared from the simple plants that grow in our Woodlands, on our River-banks, Bayous and Lakes.

**2a. As a special merit, we wish to call attention to the fact that, in using this Medicine, you only take a few Pills. Is not this preferable to swallowing a pint of nauseous minture which, at best, can only produce the tame result!
